Questions/Comments

Mr. Leeder asked Dr. Wantz to inquire whether the relocation of tutoring services and the implementation of extended hours would increase tutoring capacity.

- Dr. Wantz reported that tutoring utilization at the Sierra Vista Campus remains strong. She explained that the primary enhancement is increased access to computer lab services rather than a significant expansion of tutoring capacity. She also included that the computer lab had been relocated from the Learning Commons to the Library, to allow students access computer resources until 8:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday.
- Dr. Wantz further reported that the College continues to provide 24/7 online tutoring services and a 24/7 library chat service to support students outside regular operating hours.

3.03 Student Success – Strategic Enrollment Management Plan (SEMP)

Dr. Jacqie Allen, Associate Vice President for Student Services, provided updates on the 2025-2028 Strategic Enrollment Management Plan (SEMP). The plan began development in late spring 2025 and was finalized in late fall 2025.

Research and Analysis

- Dr. Allen noted that the SEMP is a comprehensive, data-informed framework designed to align recruitment, enrollment, retention, and student success efforts with the College's mission, strategic priorities, and available resources.
- Dr. Allen explained that the plan focuses on both enrollment growth and student success by supporting students throughout their educational journey and improving educational and career outcomes.
- Dr. Allen noted that strategic enrollment planning is particularly important for community colleges because enrollment is influenced by a variety of external factors, including:
 - Demographic changes

- Workforce and labor market needs
 - Local economic conditions
 - Dual enrollment trends
 - Transfer patterns
 - State and federal funding considerations
- Dr. Allen discussed how the plan begins with research research and data analysis, and includes charts and tables showing historical enrollment trends, student success data, environment scan results, and workforce and labor trends.
- Dr. Allen highlighted that the findings show that enrollment has fluctuated in recent years, with steady increases from 2022 to 2024. Growth has been strongest among part-time and younger aged groups, while enrollment of students aged 25 and older has declined, and the 18–24 group has grown only modestly. This reflects a shrinking pool of traditional-aged students in Cochise County. Persistence and retention rates have remained steady, with graduation rates fluctuating between 18–21%. She stated that the College always wants to keep a focus on retention, where we can make a considerable improvement is in our completion and transfer rates. Up to 30% of students who transfer to a university do not graduate from Cochise College.

Initiatives

- Dr. Allen reviewed the three primary initiatives included in the plan:
 - Enrollment Growth:
 - The goals under enrollment growth focus on expanding access, improving prospective student conversion rates, and creating re-engagement campaigns to bring back students who have stopped attending.
 - Student Success
 - The student success goals focus on increasing our persistence, retention, and completion rates. Examples include expansion of our early alerts, instituting systemic early registration campaigns, and improving the successful outcomes of students who began in developmental education courses.
 - Workforce and Transfer
 - The workforce and transfer initiative relies the most on academics and student services collaboration. These goals look to enhance our credit for prior learning opportunities, to build structured degree maps, and to expand and refine our transfer/university partnerships.
 - Dr. Allen explained that these initiatives and goals were selected after careful consideration as to what would make the most impact within the three-year timeframe, to ensure the colleges moves the needle on our strategic enrollment efforts.

Measuring Success

- Dr. Allen reported that key performance indicators (KPIs) were established to measure progress toward plan goals.
- Fall semester FTSE (full-time student equivalent), we have targeted a 3% increase. Recent data shows an increase of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a percent from fall 24 – fall 25.
- Application-to-registration yield rate, currently at 35.6%.
- Met annual target for the retention KPI, which was 44% for fall 2024 cohort.

- The non-successful KPI measures the group of students who do not continue taking classes, graduate, or transfer. For this KPI, we want to see a decrease. Recent data for the 2024 cohort shows it stayed the same as baseline of 32%.
- The last KPI looks at transfer rates within one year of graduation. target is to have a 2% increase each year. Unfortunately, decrease for 2024.
- Dr. Allen highlighted that we are in year one of the plan and some of the goals and strategies have not yet been implemented and are still in the development stage. As you can see, we've had some successes already, which is good news.

First-Year Progress

- Reported progress on several plan initiatives, including:
 - Enrollment Growth
 - Expanded BAS access and launched stop-out outreach
 - Student Success
 - Revised program declaration and launched early-registration campaigns
 - Workforce and Transfer
 - Advance Credit for Prior Learning (CPL) processes and U of A collaboration
 - Accountability
 - Established SEM Committee and began dashboard development

Questions/Comments

Mr. DiPeso asked what efforts are being made to bring back the approximately 30% of individuals who have earned some college credit but did not complete.

- Dr. Allen responded that the College is using targeted outreach efforts, including direct phone calls and social media marketing campaigns, to re-engage former students with some college credit but no completed credential, and plans to gather feedback from those students to better understand barriers to completion and identify opportunities for institutional support.

Mr. DiPeso and Dr. Allen briefly discussed evening classes and cohort opportunities for students who have returned to the workforce or do not have the time to attend school on a full-time basis.

Mr. Leeder asked whether the College has the appropriate tools and resources to achieve that level of microdata regarding former students and students with unsuccessful outcomes.

- Dr. Allen reported that implementation of a Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system will improve the College's ability to track and re-engage prospective and former students. Dr. Perey noted that the system will track student touchpoints to support outreach efforts, and discussion emphasized the importance of data collection and alternative outreach methods for reconnecting with former students.

4. COMMENTS FROM GOVERNING BOARD MEMBERS

Mr. DiPeso turned the time to Governing Board members to provide comments/share information.
